CARRANZA TROOPS DEFEAT BANDITS

Parral District Reported Virtually Free From Villa Outlaws.

CHIHUAHUA, May 29.—Skirmishes between a small band of bandits and constitutional troops under Colonel Jose Carranza, in the Tampico district, were reported by General Nafarrate from Tampico today. He said Colonel Carranza encountered the bandits at Los Angeles near the San Luis Potosi and Tampico Railroad. After a skirmish in which the bandits lost four killed they fled to reconcentrate near Eldora Station. There they brought up several cars and wagons with the evident intention of derailing and looting a passenger train. This, however, was frustrated by Colonel Carranza, who made a surprise attack resulting in a running fight, in which the bandits lost seven killed and ten prisoners, while only one constitutionalist was wounded. The wagons, cars and a quantity of supplies also were seized.

General Luis Herrera today reported conditions in the vicinity of Parral quiet, asserting that the district is gradually being rid of bandits. A former Villista colonel, Tomas Quinones, captured recently with the Murcía brothers, is said to have given information to Colonel Sequias at San Andres, where he was disarmed, concerning his late companions, said to be the last bandits in the district.

Pope Deplores War for Inhumaneness

ROME, May 29.—Cardinal Gasparri, papal secretary of state, is quoted by Rome newspapers to the effect that Pope Benedict, while maintaining strictest neutrality, deploras the anti-Christian and inhuman aspects of the war. In the absence of satisfactory evidence of an impartial nature, the Pope is unable to pass judgment on charges of improper conduct of war. The Pope is represented as cherishing the belief that the conclusion of hostilities may be hastened by a greater degree of Christian tolerance on both sides, by partial renunciation of claims and by keener sympathy for suffering peoples.

He was struck with an ax and suffered three broken ribs. Walsh was arrested. Burns is foreman of the Stanford estate. Walsh, who lived with him, worked under him. They fought after a quarrel as to who should pay for the work's provisions. Burns is at the county hospital at San Jose.

CUMMINGS BACK AS CLERK OF CITY

short conference with some of their friends and political advisers and came into the council together. The routine of carrying out the agreed program of reinstating Cummings moved swiftly.

A class in civics from the Oakland Technical High school was initiated into the mysteries of city government by a visit to the council session. The class was under the tutelage of W. J. Cooper.

CHIEF REAPPOINTMENT

The reappointment of Cummings was urged today by a committee from a number of railway employees' organizations which attended today's session. The committee was headed by J. M. Adams and represented the Order of Railroad Conductors, the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Order of Railway Telegraphers and the Switchmen's Union. Dr. Jackson announced that a writ of mandate would be asked for this afternoon before the Superior Court to force City Clerk Cummings to count the withdrawals filed with him last Thursday as against the number of signatures to the recall petition. A writ of review asking that he make a recount of the petition may also be asked.

If the court decides to grant a hearing on this the council may be served with a stay of proceedings Wednesday, and it will not be necessary in that case to call the election immediately for the recall of Commissioner Jackson. If this is not done the council must name the date for the election Wednesday. Attorney Charles A. Beardsley is representing Dr. Jackson in the recall matter.

Hill's Death Plunges Nation Into Mourning

Great Financier of Northwest Had Vast Plans

HILL'S "DISCOVERY"

James J. Hill discovered "the breadbasket of the world" in the Great Northwest. He developed the land wilderness into what now comprises six states dotted with 400,000 farms; and he blazed a trail for transportation which reached eventually from Buffalo to Astoria, with a total mileage of rail and steamship facilities that would nearly girdle the earth.

That but roughly spans the story of his achievement. Near Ouelph, in Ontario, where James Jerome Hill was born in 1838, the son of an Irish-Canadian farmer who died when the boy was 15, there stands a tree stump labeled: "The last tree chopped by James J. Hill."

It marked the lad's resolution to go to the United States. He had been prompted by an odd incident. According to the story that is told, a strange traveler had stopped at the Hill farm to take dinner, and left his horse at the gate. Young Hill saw the animal was dead and carried it a pall of water. The stranger placed with the lad's thoughtfulness and he drove off he tossed him a newspaper from the United States, and called out gravely:

"Go there, young man. That country needs youngsters of your spirit." It contained glowing accounts of opportunities in the States. He resolved to investigate for himself. It was the next morning that he chopped his last tree.

BEGINS LIFE STUDY.

As a mere runabout lad of 18, he toured from Maine to Minnesota. When, in 1856, he disembarked from a Mississippi river packet at St. Paul, that place was a frontier town of 2000 inhabitants. At the sign of W. J. Bagg & Co., agents for the Dubuque & St. Paul Packet Company, he found a job as both stowaway and clerk.

In the 16 years that followed he seized every opportunity to study the whole problem of river transportation. He gathered no end of experience and a little capital with which he launched his own firm of Hill, Gries & Co., which promptly disappeared in a hail of lawsuits by bringing the first load of coal that had ever been seen in that section into St. Paul. Two years later, with a flat-bottomed steamer he established the first regular communication with St. Paul and the Manitoba ports of the fertile river valley.

At about that time St. Paul was having its first experiment in railroad building. Eighty miles had been laid to St. Cloud, 100 miles to Breckenridge, both of which terminals were at the southern end of the Red River Valley, where there were about 100 miles of track "which began to be a vast area of rust and a right-of-way."

Hill had had sufficient success in the region to be seized with a consuming desire to purchase the defunct property, including the sub and his other interests, which netted a fortune of $100,000. He and a syndicate of three others—Sir Donald A. Smith, George Stephen and Norman W. Kittson—obtained the object of this desire.

HIS PACIFIC DREAM.

The St. Paul, Minnesota and Manitoba Railway was formed to operate the property, with Hill as general manager. When in 1883 Hill was elected president he undertook the extension of the road from its Pacific Ocean terminus to the Gulf of Mexico. He was opposed by three great competitors to the south, each of which had received big bonuses as government aid, whereas the "Manitoba" or the Great Northern, as it came to be known, did not have a dollar of government subsidy or an acre of grant to forward its progress from the Minnesota boundary to the sea.

In this light, Hill's plan was widely deemed pure folly, but he pressed it to not satisfied for he saw in the Orient still he built. For several years he laid rail westward at the rate of a mile a day and at a cost of $30,000 a mile, and as he went he left a trail of embryonic farms by the roadside.

With the line to Puget Sound once laid, he turned empire builder. He introduced the live stock industry into vast areas of bunch-grass plains, and developed them by importing blooded stock; he sent demoralized trains through the country with men who showed the people how to raise more wheat to the acre; he made an outlet for the grain by establishing a cheap rate by rail and steamship to Buffalo, where he built great elevators; in fact, for upward of five years he left nothing in his power undone to develop the country where he had staked out his claim as the great common carrier.

But at the Pacific tide-water he was not satisfied for he saw in the Orient still he built. For several years he laid rail westward at the rate of a mile a day and at a cost of $30,000 a mile, and as he went he left a trail of embryonic farms by the roadside.

WOULD REBUILD BELGIUM.

SEATTLE, May 29.—It was the ambition of James J. Hill to rebuild Belgium at the close of the war, this from a sense of gratitude for aid Belgians gave him at a time when his railroad career was at stake, as well as from his faith in the Belgian enterprise and industry.

This is vouched for by County Commissioner Michael J. Carrigan of Seattle, whose first acquaintance with Hill began in the early nineties when Carrigan besought the empire builder to extend the Great Northern to the Olympic peninsula, with terminals at Port Angeles.

Hill's project of extending the Great Northern to Seattle aroused a storm of criticism, especially since the panic of 1893 was just approaching. In a meeting of Northwest financiers the scheme was denounced as impossible, and Hill told them that he took orders from no one but his own board of directors in St. Paul.

Hardly had he made this statement when this same board of directors passed a resolution to kill the project. Hill hastened back to St. Paul and there, it is related, he recalled the directors, shut the door of the meeting room, and said: "Now, gentlemen, we will stay here until you reverse your action."

Some recession was evidently made. Hill went to New York again, to London, to Germany, to Holland, to invest financiers in the project. He came back without results.

It was then that Archbishop Ireland, according to Carrigan, came to Hill's aid. Ireland and Hill were intimate friends.

"I don't know whether this will help," said Ireland, "but I will give you a letter to the Pope." And the archbishop also endorsed Hill's plans, practically underscrying the transcontinental railroad. It was through this letter that the Pope's influence was obtained by which Hill was introduced favorably to Belgian financiers, and when he returned to St. Paul his board of directors voted with him.

From time to time since the war began in Europe strong hints have been given that James J. Hill would be the foremost figure to engage in the rebuilding of the Belgian empire.

A few weeks ago Samuel Hill of Seattle, son-in-law of the railroad builder, was asked by the king of Belgium to visit him. Hill made a record-breaking trip, and while no public statement has been issued by him, it is understood that the interview with the king related to the subject of rebuilding the country.

Samuel Hill stayed in Belgium just long enough to talk with King Albert, and he then immediately returned to the United States.

Mrs. Mary Adams Is Returned to Institution

Mrs. Mary Ellen Adams, mother-in-law of Superior Judge T. W. Harris, whom a legal action was fought in 1914, was returned to the hospital at St. Mary's, where she had been paroled, from which she had been paroled, to the institution. Dr. Leonard Stocking, medical superintendent of the institution, so advised. "It is necessary that she be returned to the hospital at once," he wrote. "She was far from sane when she left the hospital." She went to Agnew's in company with Mrs. A. L. Dodds, who had charge of her during the parole period.

Mrs. Adams has been paroled some time, and Dr. Otto Feyruth and other of San Francisco had signed a petition to have her restored to competency. Judge Harris had been named her guardian. Al. C. Chapman, attorney for Judge Harris, laid the matter before the hospital superintendent, with the suit that Mrs. Adams was ordered returned to the institution.

2166 Britons Struck by Bombs in Air Raids

LONDON, May 29.—In the attacks on the British Isles from sea and air during the war 2166 persons have been killed or wounded. The number of deaths is 580. The figures were given in the House today by Herbert L. Samuel, the Home Secretary, as follows:

"In the three attacks from sea, 81 men, 40 women and 40 children were killed, and 611 persons injured."

"In the 44 air raids 225 men, 114 women and 13 children were killed and 1093 persons were injured."

"The number of soldiers and sailors killed is only a comparatively small fraction of the total."

"TITANIC" WHEAT IS NEW VARIETY PASTOR AT LARGE SENT TO CHICO

California Product Attracts Attention of Federal Experts. Rev. W. M. McCart Will Take Place of Rev. Madison Slaughter.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 29.—The department has recently been advised by a correspondent in California that a variety of wheat is being advertised under the name "Titanic." The department is made that it is a new variety of wheat discovered in England about four years ago and that a small quantity of seed was brought to the United States by one of the survivors of the ill-fated Titanic.

The wheat is represented as having extremely high yielding power and returns reaching as high as 700-fold. A photograph sent by this correspondent shows a head identified in appearance with the widely exploited "Alaska" wheat. Five acres of the wheat are said to be growing in the state of Washington and the seed, it is believed, will be offered at high prices after harvest. The department has no further or more definite information concerning this variety, but farmers and dealers are cautioned to be on their guard concerning this new exploitation.

Hynes Summoned to Hear Testimony

Controversy over the sale of an aeroplane between G. J. Bates and Paul C. Wagoner and C. E. Hatfield, assignee of the claims of Bates, caused a lively discussion before Superior Judge Brown this morning when the testimony of witnesses tended to show that perjury had been committed. Judge Brown hastily summoned District Attorney Hynes into court to look into the case, but in the end the matter was adjourned to the satisfaction of all concerned. Hatfield claimed that he had not signed a paper relinquishing his interests to Bates and two other witnesses claimed that he had.

THE WORLD PEACE MOVEMENT.

The meeting of the organizers of the American League to Enforce Peace in Washington last week brought together many notable citizens, distinguished in one way or another for valuable service to the nation. The meeting was presided over by former President Taft and the attendants and speakers nearly all may be found in "Who's Who." The earnestness with which these gentlemen are addressing themselves to their set purpose commends their organized efforts to the attention of all people, in America and elsewhere. Whether they are able ultimately to attain tangible reward for their efforts is uncertain, but if they fail in this respect they certainly will succeed in envisioning for the world one specific plan to prevent international war.

At the meeting just closed the league outlined somewhat definitely its program. It would form a permanent league of nations for the purpose of enforcing peace. Mr. Theodore Marburg, former minister to Belgium, went further and indicated some of the methods the league would adopt. Some may think it curious that militant strength is to be the chief reliance for preserving peace. "The league must necessarily start with all, or nearly all of the great nations; in other words, with an overwhelming preponderance of military power. Its potential strength will then be so great that it need seldom translate itself into war." Any nation having a provocation for going to war with another nation, whether the excuse be imagined or real, would first have to submit its case to this tribunal. The executive committee would be charged with one supreme and certain duty to declare war on behalf of the league against such nation as did not submit its grievances to the league for comment. This it seems is all to be required, for a nation is to be at liberty to disregard the league's action on its case if it so desires and by so doing will not become liable to league discipline.

Thus the principle object sought is to exert a moral influence against war by first exposing the aims of a potential belligerent to the eyes of the world. It would make impossible secret militant diplomacy in its final stages. President Wilson has endorsed this program. In his address Saturday night he made it clear that he was aiming to translate the attitude of the government. Under Mr. Wilson's leadership the United States is ready to take the initiative in the formation of such a league.

The President's speech hardly measured up to the expectations of those who believed he would make new and definite declarations of plans for terminating the present conflict in Europe. His speech was conservative. In the main it was a composite statement of utterances of the President upon other occasions. "The United States wants nothing for itself that any other nation has," is now a familiar phrase. This fundamental principle, "every people has a right to choose the sovereignty under which they shall live," is a variation of his statement to Filipino lobbyists that "every people has a right to govern itself."

However, the League to Enforce Peace caught its inspiration months ago and has developed definite concrete ideas as to how it shall go about its work. It did not need the spoken endorsement of the President to be convinced that its sentiments were the sentiments of the nation.

That it will encounter many and formidable difficulties is also well known. One of its active members, President Wheeler of the University of California, emphasized some of them in a very frank and courageous address. For example, Dr. Wheeler was most convincing in his warning that the scheme to establish international control over national conduct is directly opposed by the obvious development of a stronger nationalism than the world has ever known. He pointed out that in the nineteenth century there was a remarkable renaissance in national loyalty and patriotism throughout the world. "This new nationalism, shaped in the sentiments of loyalty and patriotism, has undoubtedly brought with it into the world a new nobility, a new and uplifting passion, a new object of sacrifice and service, a new type of the religion of the State."

We have only to glance at the political situation in belligerent nations to see how this feeling has been accentuated during the last two years. We of America are being summoned to more diligent attention to national duty. And we are being prodded with warnings as to the conflicting schemes of other nations.

UNIVERSAL MILITARY SERVICE.

"Sec. 37. Composition of the militia: The militia of the United States shall consist of all able-bodied male citizens of the United States and all other able-bodied males who have or shall have declared their intention to become citizens of the United States, who shall be more than eighteen years of age, and, except as hereinafter provided, not more than forty-five years of age, and said militia shall be divided in three classes, the National Guard, the Naval Militia and the Organized Militia."

Thus reads a section in the army reorganization bill just passed by Congress and now awaiting the President's signature. It provides for universal service and, potentially, for compulsory universal service. In sentiment it is little different from that provision in the organic law of Germany. "The German Army shall be the German people under arms."

Yet this is not, as many commentators seem to believe, a new doctrine of American military service. An almost identical provision was in force in 1798. It has always been held that all able-bodied citizens of prescribed age were liable to the several States for military service. In the past it has been necessary to have the militiamen go through the separate act of "mustered in" before he became a federal soldier. Under the new law the President may summon the militia to national service on the strength of their original enrollment in the State organization. In this way every able-bodied citizen of prescribed age becomes liable to federal service.

The States may make service in the National Guard compulsory if conscription is necessary to recruit the quota to the required strength. Anticipating that this may be necessary, the New York legislature has passed, and Governor Whitman has signed, a compulsory service law. Thus we find compulsory military service has come upon us unawares, that is, the national government has equipped itself with the necessary legal authority to exact national service from every citizen if it is needed. Although it is not likely to be enforced, it is a timely defense provision.

REMARKABLE BANKING YEAR.

The year 1916 promises to be a red letter year in the history of banking in the United States. The wealth of the nation was never so great as it is today, although it is perhaps equally true that it was never so unevenly distributed. The steady stream of gold that has flowed to the United States during the last two years has given us an amount of metallic money not hitherto thought possible with our present population.

Congress is considering several new measures of banking legislation. It has passed the Federal Land Aid Bill which establishes a system of rural lands under Federal supervision. The postal savings bank law has been amended so that individual postal deposits may be increased from $500 to $1000. The Federal Reserve Act has been modified to permit combinations of banks to establish agencies in foreign countries.

This year is the one hundredth anniversary of the establishment of savings banks in the United States. A campaign of thrift, promoted by bankers, is serving greatly to increase savings deposits. At the end of 1915 the amount of savings deposits was something more than five billion dollars. It will be much more on December 2, the centenary of the establishment of the first savings bank in Philadelphia.

The extraordinary plentifulness of money is exceeded only by the fact that none of it is being invested in permanent enterprise. Were economic policies favorable to the investment of capital prosperity would be more widely distributed. It would not be confined to those branches of industry and commerce affected by the demands of the war.

IT'S UP TO THE SENATE.

In considering the naval bill the Senate is facing an opportunity to render unusual service to the country. The naval program voted by the House is, present conditions considered, as inadequate as any ever passed by a Democratic Congress. It is not even a compromise between the views of no-navy advocates and those of the General Board of the Navy for a sensible program of increases. It is rather a compromise between the no-navy members of the House and those less courageous members who always plan to vote for the least the people will stand for.

If the Senate is alive to its duty it will rewrite the House Bill and make it a well-balanced construction program. The House Bill is marked with many glaring deficiencies and omissions. It has disregarded entirely the recommendations of the Naval Board and, in one respect, as to a five-year program, those of the Secretary. It provides for no dreadnaughts and less of every other class of fighting craft and auxiliaries than was asked for. If the House schedule is carried out, the navy will be more lopsided and ill-balanced than ever. The House has failed to grasp the serious nature of the task that was before it or else it has neglected its duty for home political interests.

King George in signing the compulsory military service bill recently passed by the British Parliament summoned every able-bodied Englishman between the ages of 18 and 41 to arms. His Majesty reminded his subjects that no less than 5,041,000 men have been enrolled by voluntary enlistment since the war started. This being so, England has exceeded the military efforts of any other nation in all history. Figuring the population of the British Isles it is difficult to see how compulsory service will materially add to the military strength already organized.

NOTES and COMMENT

The Kansas City Times states it tersely and epigrammatically when it says that Mr. Asquith is in Ireland locking the barn door.

This somewhat intemperate item saw the light in the columns of the Gustine Standard. "Mrs. C. F. Reutter came home from Berkeley last Friday to see that the judge was behaving himself. He heard she was coming so was on his good behavior."

New form of danger reported by the Hartford Sentinel: "People who live far out in the country are kidding because Hartford sponsors drive their cars to lonely spots along the road-sides and leave their autos without lights."

A fish story, told by the Riverside Enterprise: "While a number of Riverside people were looking at the fish which lay on the little pier there, it turned on its side and bit savagely at a large orange which had fallen beside it. Thereby establishing its nationality beyond question."

Prisoners get a 25-cent meal in Glenn county and a 9-cent one in Orange, according to the findings of the supervisors' convention. Whereupon the forebanded editor of the Redding Searchlight observes: "We know which county to choose when we start out to look for trouble."

A controversy as to whether 550 gold pieces ever were regularly minted has brought out a statement in the New York Sun that while no such pieces of money were in general circulation, they have been minted privately and in government mints and in both cases in San Francisco.

Here's something. It was encountered in the Colusa Sun: "There is a prayer in human hearts in Kansas that Victor Mardock will not reach his high ambition to preside at the convention of the Progressives at Chicago. All who heard him at Colusa will remember how he pulled on the under-tow in that direction while addressing the people at the Chautauqua."

The Santa Ana Blade advises whom it may concern not to fool themselves about Marso Henry Watterson of the Louisville Courier-Journal getting old and cites as a reason his saying that "the girl of the period looks like Aphrodite when she wears an evening gown, and like a plover when she is out walking."

This, from the Democratic Advance of Tulsa, locates some of the rejoicing that is going on over the Republican situation: "In the meantime we hope the Roosevelt Non-partisan League gets enough support to bust the Republican convention wide open. The more the splits the merrier, and the surer we are that Wilson will be the next president."

Amusement note noted by the Chico Enterprise: "Wanakeeta's Wishesbone" is the title of a three-reel drama which Henry Laugenour, manager of the United States Feature Film Company, has accepted, and which will be filmed near Forestburg in a few weeks. There are only two characters, Wanakeeta and the turkey. The tragic climax comes when Wanakeeta eats the turkey and chokes on the wishbone."

The master bakers of the northwest, in convention assembled, applauded a threat to put out of business completely the housewife baker. "Maybe they will—almost," observes the Bakersfield Californian; "but there will remain for some time the old-fashioned crank who cannot forget the flaky biscuits, luscious pies and ambrosial cakes that mother used to make."

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

There is a feeling out on the road that a fellow who runs his machine only twenty miles an hour is an obstruction of the highway.—Berkeley Gazette.

Yesterday afternoon the man who was exploiting the Wander Washer at the Imperial Valley Hardware Company had quite a crowd and he made good, washing the dirtiest pair of overalls in town in two minutes and making them clean.—Hotville Tribune.

Just as a matter of an annual duty we once more advise summer patrons to refrain from the practice of rocking the boat.—Fresno Herald.

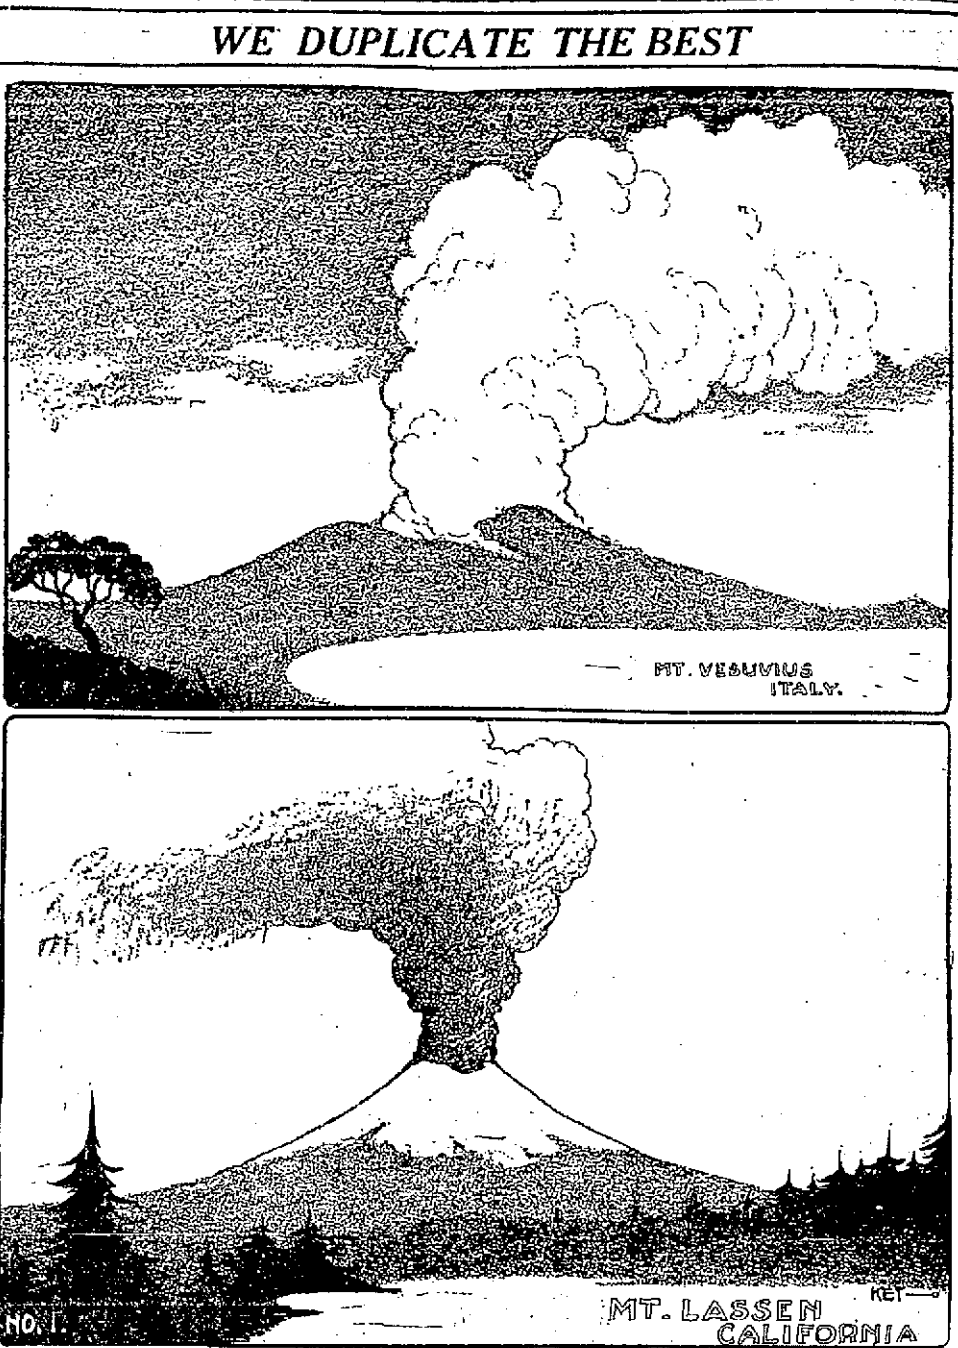

Southern California beaches are complaining of the kelp-cutting machine. The machines that do the work harvest the crop imperfectly and large quantities of the weed drift to shore, where the deposits are becoming most obnoxious.—Santa Barbara Press.

If California helps elect a Republican President this year she should also help elect a Republican Senator and Republican Congressmen to stand with him at Washington. To vote for a Republican President and not for a Republican Congress is an absurdity.—Santa Rosa Republican.

WOMEN IN PARADE

It is singularly fitting that women should play an important part in the preparedness parade. Upon women in all wars has fallen the heaviest burden—upon mothers, wives, sisters and sweethearts. Through the warring countries it is the women, more than the men, who have tasted the full bitterness of desolation. It is the women at home who have sacrificed, in far greater degree than the men in the trenches, all that life holds dear—for the privilege of dying for their country has not been theirs. But theirs has been the waiting, the bereavement, the slow starvation or the chronic self-denial that has bordered on starvation.

Therefore, it is well that the women should demonstrate their active interest in anything that tends to guard this country from the growing catastrophe of war. For the sole end and aim of the policy of preparedness is to place this country in such a state of defensive efficiency that a foreign foe will think long before he undertakes to strike at its honor.—New York Mail.

CAPTAIN JOHN SUTTER

Probably few of our readers were aware of the fact that the bones of Captain John Sutter lay in the little cemetery at Lillitz in Lancaster county until California made application to have them removed to Sacramento, where a monument is to be erected over them near the site of the fort he erected and which was once the most prominent spot in America.

Few careers have been so spectacular as that of the single-minded, courageous Bavarian soldier of fortune who came west to the Pacific and had many adventures in the Hawaiian Islands and Alaska before he settled on the Sacramento and became Mexican Governor of the region. When the Americans began their revolution under the Bear Flag, Sutter joined them and in the early years of American domination of California he was a leading citizen. He had a saw mill which was doing a thriving business until one day a workman named Marshall found some shining sand in the tailrace which he took to Sutter. The latter was an amateur scientist and soon discovered that the sand was gold. A considerable amount was collected and sent East in 1848 with reports that set all America on fire.

The days of the Argonauts are still remembered and are not likely to fade from history. Men rushed by thousands in every possible way to the Pacific coast. Some went by the isthmus, where fever-raged, some in crazy ships around the Horn, which were abandoned as soon as San Francisco was reached and others wended their weary way across the plains, many of them to die of thirst, hunger and cold or fall a prey to the Indians.

THE WOMEN'S VOTE.

There will be a new factor in the next presidential election that has begun to engage the serious attention of practical politicians, who as a class always hesitate to make serious use of the imaginative faculty of their minds. It is hard for men of this type to realize the full significance of the fact that several millions of women in the so-called enfranchised states will vote for presidential electors in November, complicated as the fact is by the avowed purpose of the women in these states to place their loyalty to suffrage above all personal party predilections. The intimation has been spread abroad through influential sources that the enfranchised women in the West will use the ballot next fall in the way that seems best to them for the furtherance of the "votes for women" cause in the so-called unfranchised states.

This means that each presidential candidate in the coming campaign will be judged by several million voters from one angle only, and his qualifications for President estimated solely by his avowed attitude toward the question of woman suffrage. The enfranchised women of the country are divided among themselves upon such issues as preparedness, the tariff, Mexican intervention, the rights of neutrals, etc., but they are united in their belief that woman suffrage is at this moment the most important question before the nation, embracing and overshadowing all others, and that their highest duty as voters is to their sex rather than to any party or political platform.

It is conceivable that in a close election the solidarity of the enfranchised women's vote might be the decisive factor.—New York Sun.

WOMEN'S VOTE.

There will be a new factor in the next presidential election that has begun to engage the serious attention of practical politicians, who as a class always hesitate to make serious use of the imaginative faculty of their minds. It is hard for men of this type to realize the full significance of the fact that several millions of women in the so-called enfranchised states will vote for presidential electors in November, complicated as the fact is by the avowed purpose of the women in these states to place their loyalty to suffrage above all personal party predilections.

The Board of Directors of the Oakland Exposition decided last evening to put the floor space in the hands of Craigie Sharp and C. E. Evans as superintendents. The conference of the Seventh Day Adventists chose the following officers for the ensuing year today: President, A. J. Breed of Oakland; secretary, C. W. Rino of Hildsburg; and treasurer, Philip Press Publishing Company of Oakland. Steward Victory of the Redwing Hospital has just completed the renovation of several of the rooms of the building. The opening of the Reliance Gun Club's trap shoot at the Alameda grounds will be held Sunday.

Some went by the isthmus, where fever-raged, some in crazy ships around the Horn, which were abandoned as soon as San Francisco was reached and others wended their weary way across the plains, many of them to die of thirst, hunger and cold or fall a prey to the Indians.

These were great days for Captain Sutter until someone undertook to look up his titles to his land he claimed. Unfortunately they were faulty. At least he was deprived of them, and from being the richest man of the section he soon fell into absolute poverty. Eventually California settled a pension of $3900 a year on him, but his spirit was broken. In 1873 he came east and settled at Lillitz and died seven years later, a disappointed and discouraged man. His tale was that of Daniel Boone and other great pioneers. They blazed the way, but lost rewards.

It is altogether fitting that Sutter's bones should rest on the soil he made so famous. Some one else might have discovered gold and the history of California would have been much the same, but his name will always be connected with one of the great eras in our history. Today there is little gold taken from the Sacramento, but yearly it yields a princely harvest in golden grain. He ought to lie in that beautiful valley so rich in history in remembrance and literary activity.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

FOOLISH PROMISES.

Why are we on the verge of trouble with Carranza? In part, because, when our Government sent troops into Mexico after Villa, it said definitely that the expedition had but one objective and by implication gave assurance that there would be no general occupancy of any territory. It was wrong to make any such promise, but the promise was made. Who can wonder if Carranza and Obregon are in a dangerous mood?

Throughout all the years of blundering the Government was constantly warned of the outcome and of the need for preparation against the day of reckoning with Mexico, as well as against peril from the Old World. At first the President sneered; later, stirred by events across the Atlantic, he lent a more willing ear to the arguments of the cautious, but his own words came back to mock him.

The situation in which we find ourselves cannot now be helped. Events have gone too far. This nation no longer is a free agent. We cannot with safety or honor recede from the position we have assumed at the Mexican border. To withdraw our troops from beyond the frontier to leave the defenses of the border States unprotected would be cowardly and criminal. If the Government were to attempt such a move, the nation would not stand for it. What may be the error of the past which have brought us to our present situation, whatever may be the cost, we must now go through with what we have begun.—Detroit Free Press.

MILK "BRACERS."

"Washington and Oregon, which became dry states last New Year's are taking more than usual interest in dairy products," says Farm and Fireside. "Buttermilk, fermented milk, and various derivatives of them have gained in popularity in 'bracing' beverages. Two large breweries are said to have been converted into up-to-date creameries. "Fermented milk is of a much higher quality now than when its manufacture was first attempted in this country. The best grades are decidedly pleasant to the taste, give an agreeable 'scratch' to the throat, and in addition are nourishing. When kept on ice they retain their good flavor for a week or more. "The dairy industry can well afford to encourage the production of such drinks the basis of which is ordinary cow's milk and a commercial culture."

DUSK MAGIC.
The city is taken of twilight.
Slow, by alley and street,
Glimmering square and thoroughfare
The wings of the dim dusk beat:

Pale on a solemn tower,
Pearl on a roof's sharp ridge,
Dun and brown where the hills step down
To river and shore and bridge.

Highways are strange with gleaming;
The span of a lofty track
Arches the air, unbeamed and bare,
Its girders lost in the black.

Then, at a darkened corner,
Suddenly, straight and sheer,
A skyscraper smites the dusk with its lights.
Marvelous, tier on tier.

And high and wide of an instant,
Scintillant, splendid, white—
Touched in the dark of a humble spark
And flamed on the startled night!

Double Accident Occurs at Roadside in Night

T. S. Harris, a Modesto capitalist, is at Livermore today in a critical condition probably with a fracture of the skull, and seven others are recovering from bruises and minor injuries, as a result of a double accident, near Livermore late last night.

An automobile driven by Harris crashed into a machine returning to Oakland from Livermore, driven by Hector Legault, an Oakland salesman. Legault said that he had started to permit an approaching machine to pass when the Harris automobile cut in between them.

A few moments later, after Legault had taken a garage man from Livermore to look at the wreck, another machine crashed into the automobile of the garage, standing beside the wreck. An investigation is being made of the latter case, in which Mrs. J. W. Crane, wife of the garage owner, was slightly bruised.

The injured:

B. F. HARRIS, Modesto, fractured skull.

PAUL L. ROUTH, Modesto.

RAY MORTON, Modesto.

F. L. LINDSAY, Modesto.

FRANK M. SMITH, Modesto.

HECTOR LEGAULT, 324 West street, Oakland.

MRS. HECTOR LEGAULT, his wife.

R. T. JONES, 3136 West street, Oakland.

Harris was removed to Livermore, where he lies in a critical condition.

The rest of the two parties were given temporary medical treatment at Livermore and Pleasanton. Legault and Jones early this morning applied at the emergency hospital for further treatment, and Legault is now under the care of a specialist, parietals of glass having entered his eye.

LEGAULT'S REPORT.

"I was returning from Livermore," Legault said, "with Jones, Mrs. Jones and my wife. We were traveling at about fifteen miles, and when another machine approached and its lights seemed to blind me, I pulled to the side of the road and stopped. Just then this other machine came behind this approaching one, and tried to cut in between us. It hit my car diagonally, and was knocked away by the impact. Both cars were badly smashed up."

"While the garage manager was looking over my car a few minutes later, another machine came by and hit his car, standing full in the road with all lights on. He did not get the other man's name."

Prompt action on the part of Jones saved his wife from possible serious injury. When he saw the collision with the other auto was inevitable, Jones, by a quick movement, lifted his car over the side of the machine an instant before the smash. She fell at the side of the roadway, but was only slightly hurt.

The accident happened on a curve near Pleasanton.

MOTORCYCLIST KILLED.

Charles Johnson of Modesto is dead and Harry Gordon, also of Modesto, is seriously injured as the result of a motorcycle accident yesterday, when their motorcycle struck a large tree, driven by J. A. Puchard at Livermore. The men on the motorcycle were returning from a pleasure trip, Johnson driving the machine. The body is at the Livermore branch morgue. Neither of the survivors can explain the accident.

AUTOMOBILE OVERTURNS.

SACRAMENTO, May 28.—Gerald B. Lull, former state forester, is in a serious condition today as the result of an accident early this morning, in which an automobile he was driving overturned near Franklin. The machine skidded, it is believed, when the steering gear became unmanageable.

William Love, 10 years old, was killed when, in a spirit of play, he ran from the Sunday school room of the United Presbyterian church, grabbed the hat from a friend and darted into the street in front of an auto.

DEAD AUTOIST IDENTIFIED.

OPIUM CACHE UNEARTHED IN RAID ON DEN

Four Americans and Nine Chinese Made Prisoners by Police.

The most ingenious contrivance for the concealment of opium which has come to the attention of the local police, was discovered in a raid last night at the residence of Charlie Fong, a Chinese interpreter, 327 Ninth street. The raid was made by Corporal Rumschets and a posse of patrolmen.

The police found Fong, a Chinese woman, Fong Wong, nine Chinese and four Americans in the place. All stoutly denied there was any opium, cocaine or morphine in the place. The police commenced a search. Nothing could be found.

While two patrolmen kept searching, looking in all parts of the room, tapping walls, tables and boxes, Corporal Rumschets formed his Chinese prisoners in lines and marched them round and round the room in a circle, in preparation for the search. Rumschets watched their eyes. He noted that Fong and the Chinese woman cast covert glances from time to time at the galvanized iron buckets under the sink.

The buckets were innocent looking. The buckets were some solid lined being soaked, apparently, in preparation for the wash. Rumschets became suspicious and picked up the buckets. They weighed sufficient to be filled with water and clothes. He tapped them and poked them about. Finally he noticed there was a fine line just below the rolled upper edge. He grasped the bucket by this rolled edge instead of by the handle, and the top part, containing the washing, came out. The bucket was double, and in the compartment between the bottom of the front and outer buckets was found opium and cocaine. A brick was placed in the bottom bucket to make the necessary weight. There were two of these buckets. They were seized as evidence.

Fong and Fong Wong, the Chinese woman, were charged with violating the state poison act. The others were charged with violating an opium resort. They were held in jail in default of bail, and arraigned before Judge George Samuels today. The Americans arrested were John Lewis, James Carlisle, Ralph B. Morris and Charles C. Whitaker.

Bat Ortega and Carter Are Mexican Wonders

Tom Nickola to Try Comeback Against Very Tough Customer

Mexican Joe Carter, like his fellow townsman, Bat Ortega, is aspiring to become the leading middleweight welter on the coast, and if he succeeds in putting the skills under one Tom Nickola, Wednesday night, Joe will be well on the way toward that goal.

Nickola, in the early days of the ring going around here, was considered Oakland's most promising big fellow. He defeated all his opponents in preliminary events and when he was promoted to the special event class, the big fellow showed clean then, too. However, it remained for Billy Murray, the "Fighting Portuguese," to put the dent in Nickola's record, the "Chicken Town" wallop putting him away in five rounds. That was on the evening of February 3, 1914.

That killed all of Nickola's chances of ever becoming better than a second-rater in the middleweight ranks. However, he was always willing to take a punch and carry a heavy wallop himself in either paw. That always made him troublesome. But whether he can stand the gaff now in the same fashion as he did in the old days remains to be seen.

A TOUGH BIRD. In Carter, the boxer just as experienced a wallop, one who is just hitting his stride, too, and whom the fans contend will make a hard work of the time of his life. Tom is training his hardest to get into shape. He boxed in Marysville a while back, though he won't say so, but he's settled with himself as far as his "condition" is concerned.

That Tom and Carter will engage in some strenuous milling goes without saying. It is a case of a good veteran trying a comeback against a hard worker, conscientious miller and one who would just as soon swap punches in a ringed enclosure as he would care to.

HERE'S A HOT ONE. Hundreds of fights and incidents happen in the city, but the one that is over "Fighting Billy" Murray's record in regard to his knockout in five rounds of Tom Nickola, we notice that one Norman Stone was put away to slumberland by Murray. And the remarkable part of it is that Stone, like Nickola, lasted only five rounds. And both are fighting different opponents on the same card, Wednesday night.

Stone meets K. O. Solomon, the husky young gent from West Oakland who has been enough to shake the whole West Oakland area when he jumps. Solomon and Stone should provide a whirlwind contest and the fans should see some lively mixing when this pair clash. Both are big fellows and it will be a case of which of the two can hit the other first to knock the bout, for both are regular pile drivers when it comes to hitting.

Sonny Morris and Billy Arrousey and Jimmy Dundee and Jimmy Arrousey, let alone the Johnny Arrousey-Joe White and the Jimmy Dundee-Joe White affairs, add plenty of emphasis to the fact that Simpson's card Wednesday night is by far the classiest which the fans have been treated to for the past three months.

Morris and Arrousey met at the W. O. club two weeks ago. The affair being called a draw after four hurricane rounds. Dundee and Jimmy Arrousey have met twice before. Dundee grabbing the decision the first time and Arrousey getting a draw on the second encounter. Wednesday's battle between the pair will be the rubber match and both will try their hardest in effort to win out.

Both Arrousey and White went through hard training. White went through a hard training which he wants to place on himself at even money. He figures that he will step so far around White. Wednesday night, that the former will think he is walking in aid air.

Tommy Simpson, promoter, states that there has been a big advance sale of tickets and admits he has to hurry up to secure their reserved seat pastedboards.

ing the final details of the grand march. Stanley is convinced, as are many other fans, that the big ball will mark the turning point in the luck.

"The Giants only won two out of their first fifteen games," said Stanley. "and then they turned around and grabbed seventeen straight and are still going. The Braves were in the cellar in July, 1914, and were the world's pennant winners in October the same year. Give these Oaks two good pitchers, and understand they are going to have them in a few days, and you'll see some smoke yet. I expect to see 5000 at the Auditorium Thursday night."

San Francisco and Oakland will meet in the first holiday double-header of the season tomorrow when they start their second series of the season. The extra game will be played here in the morning. HOPPE TO TACKLE JOE RIVERS

LOS ANGELES, May 29. — Promoter Frank Orsatti today closed agreement to stage a four-round bout between Joe Rivers and Willie Hoppe the night of Friday, June 9, in the Venice auditorium.

Orsatti has been negotiating for the bout for several weeks, but had trouble getting Hoppe's manager to agree to terms.

All indications are that the Audito-rium, which holds 3000 people, will be packed. On the same night, Reesa and Elio will mix it, and Chico will box Melanus.

John F. Logan, a leader of the Portland bar, was toastmaster, and Deputy District Attorney Joe Hammers-ley made the chief speech.

Willie started road work this morning.

By MR. MULDOON.

"This is easy," said an umpire in the Pacific Coast league the other day, "compared to what umpires experienced in the olden days, especially in the minor leagues."

"I remember the trials and tribulations experienced by the umpires in the Texas league in its early days, for I lived down there at the time and saw it all with my own eyes."

"I remember one season particularly down there when the people were too busy to go to the ball games, or the ball-playing wasn't good enough or something else."

"At any rate, along in June the club got into very hard straits."

"The players had not been paid in weeks and none of them had a cent."

"They kept on playing, because the managers kept them supplied with meal tickets and there was nothing else for them to do if they wanted to eat."

"It was a very sad state of affairs," I suggested.

"He replied the old umpire. "And it was when things were at about their worst that a new umpire came down to Ft. Worth from Dallas."

"The players who had become so dissatisfied and unruly over the non-payment of their salaries concluded to have some fun with the umpire."

"They were so rough with him that he soon became indignant and began playing on fumes. He was merely laughed at him. Before the game was over he had fined everybody about $100 and nobody cared, for there wasn't $100 in the combined treasury of the league."

"That's one time when the players had the umpire where the hair was short."

"Oh, I don't know about that. You say the umpire was an ordinary bright fellow, one who saw through things."

"And that night he saw the players who had laughed at him and his fines that afternoon having their meal tickets punched."

"The punching gave him a new idea. The very next day, in fact, when he reported for duty at the ball park the umpire had with him a conductor's punch."

"When the first player to get pay started the ball rolling the umpire called him to him."

"The player walked over grinning."

"Let me see your meal ticket," said the umpire where his hair was short. "Then the umpire produced his punch and punched out a lot of holes."

"I'll fine you six meals," he said. "Now get back into the game and behave yourself or you won't eat again this week."

"With every player who attempted trouble he did the same thing so that at night the meal tickets were punched so badly there was hardly a square meal left on any of them."

"But from that time forward this particular umpire never had a moment's trouble with the players. They all knew that if they fooled with him they would go hungry."

McAllister vs. Les Darcy? Why Not Rich Oaklander?

Bob Should Make Great Showing Against Australian Wonder

Who is the middleweight which Snowy Baker has selected from the first of the American midweight fights the great Les Darcy, Australian wonder, for the world's middleweight championship? Is it Mike Gibbons, the "Big Boy" of the ring, who has been knocking out the world's champions since he was a kid? Or is it Al McCoy, the former world champion, who has been knocking out the world's champions since he was a kid? Or is it Al McCoy, the former world champion, who has been knocking out the world's champions since he was a kid?

WHY NOT McALLISTER. With all these good, bad and indifferent middleweights being considered as prospective opponents for the Antipodean whirlwind, why doesn't some manager or booster come to the fore with Snowy Baker himself, the former Olympic club wonder, who is now an Oaklander and has been boxing for the San Francisco four round card of late.

GREATEST NEXT TO MIKE. Next to Mike Gibbons, we believe that McAllister is the cleverest big fellow with the Sol Levinsons that the middleweight game can claim. In his career as a pugilist, Bob has only met one defeat, and that at the hands of Mike Gibbons when he was practically "green." McAllister boxed rings around the "Two City" flash for six rounds. In the seventh, McAllister, the "dub" that he was, dropped his guard when coming out of a clinch and the St. Paul master whipped over his famous right swing to the jaw. Then it was all over but the shouting.

DEFEATED ONLY ONCE. Outside of his match with Gibbons, McAllister has never faced defeat. He made a monkey out of Battling Levinsky in New York, and beat him in easier fashion than did Jack Dillon not long ago. He toyed with Fred Iyer in San Francisco in a four round bout, though he pulled himself all the way. And as the record books indicate, Dyer lasted twenty rounds with Darcy.

Right now, McAllister needs to condition himself a trifle before he can be ready for a match with Darcy. If he was given the crack at Les he would be able to condition himself on the bout going over and by the time the six round bout hit the wonderful Sidney baron, Bob would be in perfect trim.

BOB WOULD BE POPULAR. In Australia, McAllister would make a big hit with the fans. He is the type of a boxer who will certainly appeal to Australians. Cleverness is his main reliance in bringing home the bacon. He can dance and step through the marathon route with the ease and grace of a Vernon Castle. With lightning in the clinches and clean breaks rulling in the Antipodes, McAllister, if he gets the chance, will have a better opportunity of beating the Australian phenom than any boxer one could name at the present time, with the exception of Mike Gibbons. And we are doubtful whether Mike would be able to stick twenty rounds, as the longest he has ever traveled is fifteen. Since 1911, we are doubtful whether Gibbons ever engaged in a fifteen round contest, either. At least, the record books do not indicate it.

So, Mr. Hammersley, while everybody is trying to dope out who the American is who will be selected to meet Darcy, why not wire Snowy Baker that we have a man right in our own midst who is easily capable of holding his own with the great Australian. It would be a big boost for yourself and California, for McAllister is a Californian and a Californian winning the world's middleweight championship would be great stuff. Especially for the "41" old New York sporting writers.

RITCHIE WANTS BROOM. Harold Broom, handler of Frankie Malone, a chimp who trained such nifty wallopers as Joe Arrousey, Henry Hickey, Eddie Moy and Willie Fitzsimmons, is wanted by Joe Hammersley, the promoter of the Ritchie-Grunman match. Broom received a dispatch from Hammersley just the other day suggesting that he prep. Ritchie for the latter's match with Grunman. Willie was slated to arrive in Portland yesterday.

Broom wired his non-acceptance of the proposition for Hammersley. It seems, refused to guarantee him a certain sum in Ritchie's behalf. Broom declares that he has heard too much of Willie Ritchie's business ability and doesn't want to take any chances of going up to Portland and back for nothing.

To the Sporting Editor: Ball thrown to first baseman to return batter who had hit it, in the grand and bonnie network first baseman's knees; he reaches for it with his bare hand and has mud on ball when runner reaches base. Is ball properly held in return? I say if the ball was being secretly held, but from this distance it looks like it was.

LIGHT AND NARROW DEALINGS PREVAIL
Few Striking Changes in Price Quotations on Any of Leading Stocks

NEW YORK, May 29.—Aside from such specialties as the Automobile group, in which gains of two to five points were recorded, no striking changes from last week's final quotations were noted on the resumption of trading today.

War shares, such as Crucible Steel, Mexican Petroleum and some of the metals, were lower by a point.

There were fairly large initial offerings of U. S. Steel, Reading and Kennecott Copper at minor changes, but otherwise dealings were light and narrow.

Prices hardened later, the strength of Reading and Lehigh Valley, especially the latter, forcing the basis of improvement. Motors continued to dominate the special list. Willis-Overland gained six points, with almost five for Chrysler Motors to the new record of 106 1/2 to its increased dividend, while General Motors slumped 67 points to 47 1/2. At midday the market was almost motionless. Bonds were firm.

NEW YORK STOCK RANGE.
